

Children show an interest in technological toys with knobs or pulleys, or real objects. They Shows skill in making toys work by pressing parts or lifting flaps to achieve effects such as sound, movements or new images

Children recognise that a range of technology is used in places such as homes and schools

Early Years Acorns

Children Interacts with age-appropriate computer software. They select and use technology for particular purposes.

Children can complete a simple programs on a computer.

Children know how to operate simple equipment.

Children know that information can be retrieved from computers.